DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 35-38, drawn to a method comprising administering to a food zingibain to affect food intolerance in a subject.

Group II, claim(s) 39, drawn to a method comprising utilizing zingibain in the production of alcohol from cereal in order to increase the efficiency of said production of said alcohol from said cereal.

Group III, claim(s) 40-41, drawn to a method of preparing a bakery product with cleaved gluten comprising using zingibain.

Group IV, claim(s) 42-45, drawn to a food comprising an amount of zingibain to increase the percentage water content.

Group V, claim(s) 46-51, drawn to a food comprising an amount of zingibain to affect food intolerance in a subject.

Group VI, claim(s) 52-53, drawn to a method comprising administering zingibain for the treatment of a condition.

Group VII, claim(s) 54, drawn to a method comprising administering zingibain to a meat product to cleave prion proteins.

Group VIII, claim(s) 55, drawn to a method comprising utilizing zingibain in cell harvesting to cleave fibrinogen.

Art Unit: 1655

The inventions listed as Groups I - VIII do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

According to PCT Rule 13.2, unity of invention exists only when the shared or corresponding technical feature is a contribution over the prior art.

The common technical feature among Groups I - VIII is zingibain. Lee et al. (Journal of Food Science, 1986, cited in Applicant's IDS) teach the use of zingibain as a meat tenderizer (see, e.g., the abstract and the entire document). Therefore the technical feature is not a contribution over the art, and the claims lack unity.

Furthermore, it is noted that in the International preliminary Report on Patentability, that the Officer found that "requirement of unity of invention is not complied with, " and stated that zingibain and the various uses thereof is known in the prior art.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Art Unit: 1655

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Rejoinder Practice

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
